A gentleman had suffered a medical emergency and drove his truck through his garage and out the back wall. This person was in serious need of life support. There was a gas leak and other hazards present. Officer Cole opened the airway and directed appropriate units to aid the man and did this a risk to his own safety. The gentleman was transported and the scene was made safe. This prompted his co-worker, Officer Wozniak to write a personal letter of commendation and turn it in to the Chief of Police.
